

Parallel sessions 2
Thursday 1 September 2016 16.15-17.45
Communication AUD. Jan Mossin
Nicholas Bardsley	University of Reading	Does reasoning explain choice? Evidence from coordination problems
Valeria Burdea	University of Nottingham	Communication with partially verifiable information: an experiment
Silvia Dominguez-Martinez	Amsterdam School of Economics	Communication versus (restricted) delegation: an experimental comparison
Sebastian Fehrler	University of Konstanz	Renegotiating cooperation: communication in noisy, indefinitely repeated interactions
Reference Dependence I AUD. Finn Kydland
Thomas Graeber	University of Bonn	Testing the role of experience for expectations-based reference points
Daniel Mahler	University of Copenhagen	Give me an 'S'! Diminishing sensitivity and loss aversion in life satisfaction
Julien Senn	University of Zurich	Myopic loss aversion, the endowment effect for risk and expectation-based reference-dependent preferences
Sebastian Schneider	University of Goettingen	Unemployment, precautionary savings, and loss aversion. An empirical test
Finance II AUD. Terje Hansen
Iñigo Iturbe-Ormaetxe	University of Alicante	Optimistic and stubborn: an experimental analysis of the disposition effect
Miroslav Zajicek	University of Economics, Prague	The more you trade, the less you earn: an experimental study
Karin Thorburn	Norwegian School of Economics	Does gender-balancing the board reduce firm value?
Public Choice AUD. D
Alexander W. Cappelen	Norwegian School of Economics	False positives and false negatives in distributive choices
Dirk Engelmann	Humboldt University Berlin	The choice of voting rules under a veil of ignorance - experimental evidence
Adam Telek	University of Alicante	Power Networks - A network approach of voting theory
Justin Valasek	Berlin Social Science Center (WZB)	Social identity and political polarization
Cooperation II AUD. 21
Patrizia Sbriglia	University of Naples II	Cooperation, punishment and organized crime: a lab-in-the-field experiment in Southern Italy
Xiaoyu Zhou	Royal Holloway, University of London	Rice farming and the emergence of cooperative behavior
Martin Scheuermann	RWTH Aachen University	How to choose a leader - legitimacy in the lab
Felix Kölle	University of Cologne	Cooperation, discounting, and the effects of delayed benefits
Taxation AUD. 22
Philipp Krügel	Helmut Schmidt University, Hamburg	Sinn's theory of the welfare state - some experimental evidence
Antonios Proestakis	Joint Research Centre, European Commission	Sustaining tax compliance by signalling cooperation
Kristina Bott	Chr. Michelsen Institute	Increasing tax compliance - auditing, tax moral appeals, or both? A lab experiment
Benoît Tarrow	University Rennes 1	Are people consequentialist in the choice of taxation? A survey study
Confidence &amp; Trust AUD. 23
Mingye Ma	University of Edinburgh	Motivated overconfidence? Evidence from a field experiment
Christina Gravert	University of Gothenburg	Self-confidence and motivation
Andis Sofianos	University of Warwick	Trusting in an infinitely repeated trust game
Vittorio Pelligra	University of Cagliari	Responding to (un)reasonable requests
Labour &amp; Education AUD. 24
Anna Sandberg	Stockholm University	Gender dynamics in referral-based hiring: a field experiment
Teodora Boneva	University College London	Money or fun? Why students want to pursue further education
Linda Kamas	Santa Clara University	Confidence, competition, and earnings: women at coed and single-sex colleges