

BERGEN ECONOMICS OF ENERGY AND ENVIRONMENT RESEARCH CONFERENCE

Panel Discussion: Who can and cannot own the fish: the Tveterås proposals
Chaired by Prof. Stein Ivar Steinshamn

Participants:

Adm. dir. Otto Gregussen, Norges Sildesalslag
Fagdirektør Peter Gullestad, Fiskeridirektoratet
Fiskebåtredar Inge Halstensen, K. Halstensen AS
Prof. Rögnvaldur Hannesson, NHH
Prof. Torbjørn Trondsen, Universitetet i Tromsø

The big old commons problem – fisheries – has in Norway in our time gone from negative to positive rent, quite possibly with improved management and policies contributing to healthier stocks and less waste. The Tveterås proposals relate to ownership of the resources, their tradability (disentangled from the factories, from the fleet?), and also in Norwegian politics such issues as value added, employment, regional development, competitiveness, sustainability.

The panel discussion will be in Norwegian, in due consideration of those who need to learn.
